

Indiana Content Licensure Tests
For Addition to an Instructional License via Testing Alone
2023-2024

(Highlighted Tests are Available and Valid for Indiana Licensure on September 1, 2023)

All tests are subject to change by the Indiana Department of Education.

The following exams may be used to add content area(s) to your license via testing alone. ETS Praxis exams registration and preparation materials, including one free interactive practice test per test area, are available at <https://www.ets.org/praxis/in>.

PLEASE NOTE: The release of your exam score to our office can take one to six weeks from your testing date. To determine when your score will be released, based on testing date, go to the Praxis website at Getting Your Praxis Scores \(For Test Takers\) \(ets.org\).

Important Information

- You must always code Purdue University (1631) as a score recipient when you register for all Praxis exams. Failure to do so will incur additional costs to have your official score(s) resent.
- If you test in Indiana at a testing center and your Praxis profile address is in Indiana, your score report will be sent automatically to the Indiana Department of Education (IDOE).
- If your Praxis profile address is not in Indiana, or you test outside of Indiana, or use the Praxis test “At Home” option, your scores are NOT automatically sent to the IDOE. To have your scores sent to the IDOE, you must select the Indiana Department of Education (state code 7238) as a score recipient when you register.
- For all methods of Praxis testing, to request additional score reports you must select Purdue University (1631) and/or the IDOE (state code 7238) with each additional score report request if you want either Purdue and/or the IDOE to receive it. There is an additional cost to have your official score(s) resent.
